I. REVIEW OF ADVOCACY DAY AND NEXT STEPS
Sue North and Jack Hailey, Government Action & Communication Institute
- Jack Hailey read a selection of the evaluations that were submitted by participants of Advocacy Day.
- Sue North provided a few PowerPoint slides with suggestions for November/December.
   o Take a packet to a district office; bring a colleague or colleagues from another agency with you – in other words, represent your coalition and your "community"
   o Invite people from legislative offices (members and staff) to make a site visit to one or more of your programs.
- Comments
   o Ask legislators to accompany us on a Meals on Wheels delivery run.
   o Part of the bread and butter of a legislator's life is learning about his or her district – providing them information is crucial for them.
   o Beware of acronyms and jargon – take a last look at materials to make sure they are understandable. There's a good glossary of terms and abbreviations in this year's Summit booklet.
   o Will we have a formal outreach to federal legislators?

- Response: The California Collaborative does review federal issues and regional coalitions members are welcome to join in those conversations. Also, any action that the Collaborative takes will be reflected on its website -- www.ccltss.org – and through the regional coalition listserve.
- Sue North thanks the planning committee who worked on the Advocacy Day.
- Laurel Mildred: The evaluations are definitely moving along our cooperative agenda among Collaborative and regional coalitions

II.   UPDATES FROM REGIONAL COALITIONS
- Carolyn Nava, Diversability Advocacy Network (Chico)
  - Focus is on health plan concerns and developing a strategy to get Anthem/Blue Cross to be more collaborative and engaged in more community dialogue. They are also looking at hospital discharge planning to build the discharge planners' awareness of local services. We have a new social media presence.
- Brandi Orton, Los Angeles Aging Advocacy Coalition
  - Building a local action team with a couple of sub-groups – those focusing on homeless older adults and those focusing on vulnerable at-risk older adults. These groups are focusing locally and at the state level (e.g., working on housing with LeadingAge). Integration of health and services with housing is needed. Within the effort to assist homelessness, there is a need to alter the assessment individuals go through. Also starting the planning for our summit on aging. Last year we brought labor and business to the table; this year, that effort is expanding.
- Allison Yant, Monterey Bay Aging and Disability Resource Coalition
  - We had an all-day event in Monterey County with ADRC and AAA in September. We heard from LeadingAge and from a housing/health care expert. Breakout groups in the afternoon and a closing session with elected officials (120 participants). Developed action steps and leaders for each of the work groups with follow up in November. Also, in Santa Cruz County was a "solutions summit." They have workgroups as well and a follow up calendar. In the coming year, there is a goal of a summit of some kind in San Benito County.

- Jan Lemucchi LTSS Workgroup of Kern County
  - This has been a growth year for our coalition. Working with the Central Valley coalition on Advocacy Day may lead to more cooperative ventures from Fresno to Kern. Met with a local assembly member in his office and shared a transportation challenge with him that they will also share with city council members and members of the board of supervisors. The coalition may go through a name change, too.

III. ANNOUNCEMENTS FROM THE SCAN FOUNDATION

Kali Peterson, Program Officer, The SCAN Foundation

- Reflections on the pride and excitement around Advocacy Day – Mark's kick off remark, the well-organized nature of the event, and the depth of effort by regional coalition representatives during the day.
- TSF calls to each coalition have begun – check with your team leader if you would like details.
- Review of Q7 reports will happen this week.
- Thank you to everyone for their participation in the annual Summit.
